ANSE JOURNAL

ANSE Journal #4 will be released in November 2019. The topic is Bridging, Connecting worlds through supervision and coaching. Workshop-leaders and keynote-speakers will publish their presentation, or outcomes of the workshops.

ANSE Journal #5 will be about Reflection and Reflective learning, if you want to write an article about the topic, or you know a national article that should be shared in the ANSE journal, please send it in before March 31, 2020

ANSE Journal #6 is going to be published in the autumn of 2020 with the topic Supervision and Ethics. Deadline for ANSE Journal #6 is September 30, 2020

International Intervention Groups

Three already finished Intervention groups presented their results in SU Bolzano and one group got certificates. We are happy to announce that two new groups started in Bolzano and couple of new groups are on the way. We have created Facebook Group for those who are seeking a group or want to exchange information about their IIG.

Follow Us on Social Media

ANSE is active on 4 social media platforms. You can find information on interesting topics, local events, ANSE-activities, ANSE-journals.

Since the Summer University and Board meeting in Bolzano, we decided to become more active on Linked In. There was an ANSE-group already, but there wasn't happening much at that moment. The weekly updates on the other platforms will be published in this group, but it is also possible to start your own topic, or ask questions about supervision related items

Although the outcome of the mentimeter during Summer University in Bolzano showed that there wasn't much interaction on Twitter and Instagram, we decided to keep going on at Twitter and started an Instagram Account. Feel free to follow ANSE and like, share or interact with us. We will try to keep you updated on all our activities.
