SAI NAVIGATES THEIR WAY IN THESE CHANGING TIMES

- During the pandemic, SAI, like other national organizations for supervision, continues to navigate these changing times. We do this whilst cultivating the collective wisdom emerging as a board, from our sub-committees and our members.

3

WORKING ON-LINE

The board has met more frequently during lockdown.

SAI, through its members, has offered lots of support to practitioners from across professions working at the frontline.

We endeavour to continue to reach health care professionals working during this challenging time.

WORKING ONLINE

- SAI board members have undertaken online training for supervision and our Vice-Chair has been keeping the board updated on current GDPR guidelines for working online.
- SAI have updated the website with guidelines for working online for our members.
- We have launched collaborative circles (CC) for our members.
- Here members can connect monthly and reflect on challenges and wisdom acquired at present.
- We strive to connect our members in a safe, contemplative, collaborative space.

ONLINE TRAINING AND CPD

Training has continued for new supervisors online.

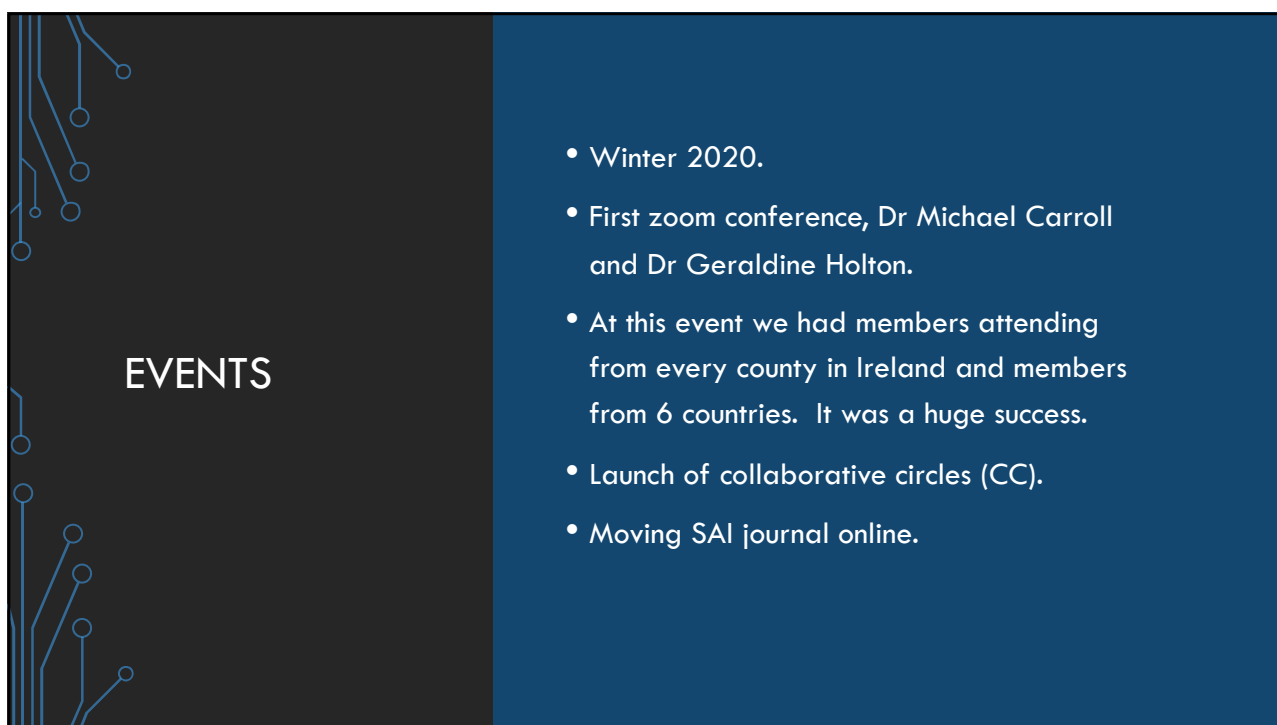

SAI will be providing CPD for members via an online platform

An open book is shown from a top-down perspective, with the pages fanned out. The central gutter of the book is folded to form a heart shape. The background is a dark, blurred image of a landscape.

RENEWAL OF MEMBERSHIP

- Renewal of membership happens in October.
- We will then have clearer figure on our numbers.
- Sadly, some of our members have taken early retirement.
- Phone line queries re pre-accreditation and accreditation has been busy.
- All newly enrolled student supervisors have applied for pre-accreditation.

CULTIVATING NEW GROWTH

- We at SAI strive to work together as a board, with our sub-committees, members and ANSE to cultivate new wisdom emerging so that we can continue to bring supervision in a compassionate and professional manner to all it serves.
- We wish you, our colleagues, in Europe well.
