

Times are still turbulent, and the Corona Virus has our world firmly in its hands. Given the occasion, we were forced to hold an online President meeting and General Assembly (9.10.-11.10.2020) for the first time in history. Despite all circumstances, we think that we were able to work well together and we had a good exchange. The topic COVID-19 was also a central aspect in our meeting. It was good to hear that not only negative feelings emerged, but a number of innovative and creative ideas and practices were born and exchanged, such as creating new tools for members – virtual GA – online webinar, workshops. It is possible to reach more people and gives more flexibility in terms of time and cross border.

Especially in a society full of changes and challenges, it is important to dedicate oneself to the topic of quality in training and practice. In the GA, particular attention was paid to this and the topic of digitalization. In our meeting, it was noted that more research on online supervision would be desirable. Hence, we also want to encourage the community to devote themselves to this topic and to be happy to exchange ideas.

We are very pleased to inform you that the ANSE community has continued to grow. We want to congratulate Svensk Handledarförening i Psykosocialt Arbete (Swedish Association of Supervision in Psychosocial Work) on full membership in ANSE.

And we are happy to be able to win the very young organization National Association of Supervisors of Russia as an associate member. In this sense, the supervision profession continues to be strengthened.

In this respect, we look forward to further cooperation and, despite the good digital contact, we hope for face-to-face meetings in the upcoming time. There is already a lot on the program, such as the Summer University in Latvia and in 2022 the Research Conference in Austria.

See you there!

ANSE started a new series of Free Online Tools on all social media platforms

ANSE started a new series of Free Online Tools on all social media platforms. As our profession has changed into more online supervision and coaching, we are sharing and collecting free online tools. If you have good practice examples, please share them on our social media platforms. ANSE will share them in all social media platforms, like Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and LinkedIn.

International Intervention Groups

ANSE is welcoming new participants into IIG Facebook Group for those who are seeking a group or want to exchange information about their IIG.

November 21st, 2020 IIG workgroup will organize the second online meeting of IIG in Zoom. There will be 2 topics for discussion: forming new online IIG and online group methods. The meeting time is 9.00-10.00 CET and you can register by sending a message on e-mail: piret@bristol.ee or in IIG Facebook group.
