

In the meantime, we have stopped counting the lockdowns and restrictions and have more or less taken on our new everyday life - the new normal. At the same time, not all areas can be compensated for by digital media. In this respect, we decided in April to postpone the Summer University by one year in August 2022. Five days of Summer University is not possible to do online. Networking, small talks, but also a cultural program in Latvia, has to be done in real life.

In this respect, we look forward to further cooperation and, despite the good digital contact, we hope for face-to-face meetings in the upcoming time. There is already a lot on the program, such as the Summer University in Latvia and the Research Conference in Austria in 2022.

See you there!

Nevertheless, this year should not be without events: The Quality Talk Meetings continue successfully online. We launched the new outline of events – the Talent Talks. Furthermore, ANSE board would not let this summer go by without any activity. That is why we decided to organise the ANSE Summer online Special.

Talent Talks

We are going to take advantage of the possibilities of online working and combine it with further training of supervisors and coaches all over Europe. Therefore, we make use of our list of international lecturers and keynote speakers and we invited three of them to host a webinar, workshop or keynote. We call these sessions ANSE Talent Talks which are free of charge for ANSE members. All participants receive a digital certificate with 0,5 Permanent Education points (PE-points). The first successful Talent Talk was hosted by Estonian supervisor and coach Kaupo Sauu and the second one will be hosted by Norwegian Association NOSCO president Gunn Brigitte Danielsen. Registration is open.

International Intervision Groups Virtual Meeting May 29

ANSE is welcoming new participants into IIG Facebook Group for those who are seeking a group or want to exchange information about their IIG.

In March we had the online meeting of IIG in Zoom. It was very productive and two new Intervision Groups were formed. The next meeting will be organized May 29, at 9.00-10.30 CET and you can register by sending a message on e-mail: piret@bristol.ee or in IIG Facebook group.

Summer Online Special

ANSE board is happy to organize the ANSE Summer online Special. It is going to be two-day program with keynotes, workshops and experimental online networking and room for small talk.

The ANSE Summer online Special will take place on Thursday August 19 and Friday August 20, 2021. The keynote speakers will be Sijtze de Roos, Georg Breiner and Joachim Schwendenwein.
